Dr. Susanne Hoffmann-Eifert

Forschungszentrum Jülich GmbH, Germany

Susanne Hoffmann-Eifert received her diploma in physics from RWTH Aachen University, Germany, in 1992. In 1998, she received her doctorate from the Faculty of Electrical Engineering and Information Technology at RWTH Aachen University. She then joined the Institute for Solid State Research at Forschungszentrum Jülich as a post-doc. She is currently a senior researcher and group leader at the Peter Grünberg Institute 10, Forschungszentrum Jülich, Germany. Her research interests include thin film growth, especially by atomic layer deposition, device integration and device physics with current focus on non-volatile and volatile memristive devices for application in neuromorphic computing.
